Erosion Danger Present In Nearly Every Month

The erosion hazard not only is with us always, but also it comes at any season, almost every month of the year. It is so serious that soil losses of 10 tons or more to the acre in a single month are not at all uncommon. Highest soil loss experienced for a single month in Mississippi was 62.76 pounds per acre. The loss must be combatted by terracing, ground cover and conservation.

New Type Spray Oil For Fruit Trees

A new superior type oil for use in dormant sprays for fruit trees has been developed by Geneva experiment station. The new type oils are said to be more effective and to be safer to use on fruit trees. It is estimated that 25 million gallons of oil are used annually throughout the world for horticultural sprays, sufficient to make about a billion gallons of dilute spray.

New Machine Aids Deep Fertilization

A machine capable of placing fertilizers at plow-sole depth and covering as high as 30 acres a day has been developed by an Illinois farmer. Fertilizer placed at root depth in the soil or in the bottom of the plow furrow has been gaining advocates at a rapid pace. The present slow method of application has delayed its general application. It allows late season application after weather has become settled.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain
Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:
1 Taken like a tonic, Cardui helps stimulate appetite, aid digestion.* Thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2 Started 3 days before your time is due, Cardui may help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Uncle Sam Says

All of us would like to put dad on a pedestal on Father's Day to show him how we feel about him the year round. I like to think of all American fathers in the role of Minute Men, standing guard over the security of their families. Certainly they could do no better than to assure the happiness of themselves and their homes than by buying United States Savings Bonds regularly.

Two automatic bond buying plans are available now. If dad is on a payroll, the Payroll Savings Plan will assure him days of ease when he gets ready to retire. If dad is a professional man or self-employed, he can use his checking account to buy a bond a month.

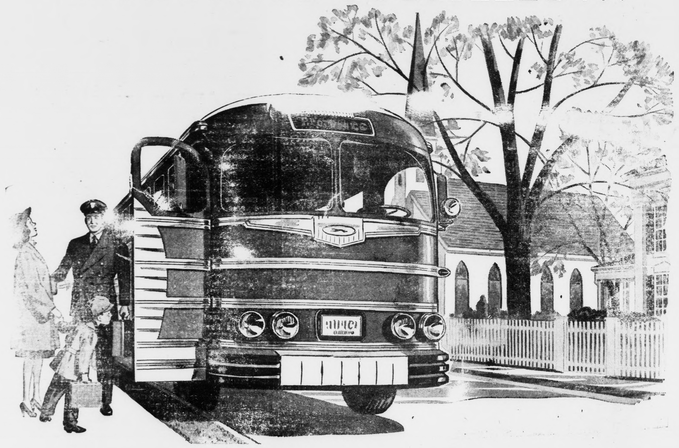
A PROMISE FULFILLED...



The first fleet of new Greyhound coaches has arrived—
And they are ready to carry you away in "low-cost luxury!"

● At last, the finer transportation that Greyhound has promised you is rolling along the highways today!

These new buses are the first among hundreds scheduled for delivery this year . . . and the instant you board one of these new "Silversides" buses, you're in for more comfort than you have known in highway transportation!

Inside and out, the new coaches are vastly improved. Observation windows are larger and made with special Solex glass, gentle to the eyes and complexion, absorbing harsh sun rays. There's more leg room between seats . . . all chairs have deeper cushioning and a rich new upholstery . . . a highly-developed air conditioning not only provides the right temperature, but controls humidity as well. Outside, the entire outline of this diesel-powered coach is reflected in the headlights of oncoming vehicles—because of a new reflecting plastic material with which the bus is coated. All together, more than 100 improvements bring you greater comfort, safety, and speed.

Yes, one promise has been fulfilled to you . . . but Greyhound does not intend to stop there! In finer terminals, Post Houses, wayside stations, and even newer coaches, Greyhound will bring you all the comfort, the convenience, the economy that goes with progressive highway transportation.

LOTS, LOTTERY, LOTTO

Question: I have just caught myself writing idly: "A lot of lots are lots larger than a lot of other lots." How did we get such a word in the first place?—Mrs. I. N. D.

Answer: The original word was the Anglo-Saxon hlot, "a share obtained by casting lots."

The custom of casting lots is of great antiquity. When the Lord commanded Moses to number the people in the plains of Moab, He spoke to Moses, saying (Numbers 26, 56): "According to the lot shall the possession thereof (the land) be divided between the few and the many."

The term lot to designate the site for a house is strictly an Americanism. Says Devere:

"It has its rise in an old Puritan custom. The first settlers in the seaboard plantations of New England owned the extensive salt-marshes, which produce such excellent salt hay. Every man cut, saved, and salted as much of the hay as he wanted. When, however, the population increased, it was agreed to divide out these commons in equal parts to all families. This was done by lot, and the choice of every man, as his name was drawn and he became entitled to select his piece of land, was known as his lot."

In time, the term lot came to mean any considerable quantity or degree, as, a lot of people; a lot better; lots of money.

The casting of lots is mentioned frequently in both Testaments. Matthias was chosen by lot to be the twelfth apostle.—Acts 1, 26. When Jesus was crucified, the soldiers "parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take."—Mark 15, 24.

And even today children preserve the ancient custom in the counting out rhymes, such as "Eeny, meeny, miney, mo."

Other words which derive from the simple word lot are: lottery, allot, allotment and lotto, which also is the Italian word for lot.

Add unusual names. Mrs. M. E., of Savannah (she is now 85) writes: "When I was a child in Michigan I knew an Indian named Halfaday Holliday, and Able Workman was a neighbor of ours." M. G. F., of Bellaire, Ohio, used to teach school. These were some of her pupils: Ima Remnant; Nile Green; Ellabee Good; Roy Scarfpin.

MOVING TO TOWN

(Winchester Star)

It is no longer a mystery why city streets and sidewalks appear more crowded than they did before the war. The United States Census Bureau says people have been moving from the country to the city. Civilian population living in urban areas, 56.7 per cent of the total in April, 1940, increased to 60 per cent in July, 1946.

Rid Worms in Sheep With Phenothiazine

To control stomach and other roundworms of sheep, treat each animal individually with phenothiazine just ahead of the pasture season and keep phenothiazine-salt mixture in a covered trough before sheep on pasture.

Put a fence of corrugated paper (about 12 inches high) around the chick brooder to keep chicks from straying away and getting chilled. Move it back a little each day or so to give more room. Use it until chicks start jumping over.

To save time and hard work castrating and vaccinating pigs, make a rack like the one shown. Put the pig on its back in the V-shaped trough and, if you have no helper, use a strap to hold it.

Dipping sheep should wait until after shearing cuts have healed.

Captain of Industry

Meet Butch—Pres., Treas., and Field Force of the One Man Odd Jobs Co., Unlmc. Take a good look at him—for Butch is America.

Butch wants a bicycle. Lots of lawn and lemonade and baby-sitting lie between Butch and that bike, but we're betting on the boy. He has energy, vision, and our national habit of working hard for what he wants. He's American business—in miniature.

There are many names for Butch's philosophy. You can call it Free Enterprise, Opportunity, Democracy, or Capitalism, if you want.

But, whatever the name, America owes it much. For our most valuable natural resource lies in the ambition and initiative of Americans like Butch.

As great publications have grown from the dreams of young men with old handpresses—and great industries from the products of grubby little cellar workshops—the electric industry had small beginnings, too. Like our own company. A few men with vision strung the first small lines. People with faith risked their savings. Better and better service, at lower and lower cost, created more and more jobs—and carried the benefits of electric living to more and more people.

Free enterprise and hard work will bring Butch and his bike together. They are what built America and the American way of life, which is the highest standard of living in the world. No nation on earth has found a satisfactory substitute for that combination.
